

Supply Chain Webinars

Kick off the New Year with a free lunch and learn webinar series targeted at the Manitoba food, beverage and agri-product industry and its supply chains.

In a recent survey, 65 per cent of Manitoba food processors indicated that supply chain is the biggest challenge they are currently facing. If you're like many food processors, you may be looking for assistance in dealing with various supply chain issues. Attend these free webinars to learn more about supply chains and tools to help.

Supply Chains: What They Mean to Your Food Business

Richard Reid, Supply Chain Manitoba

Join Supply Chain Manitoba expert, Richard Reid, as he delivers a webinar that will provide a thorough overview of supply chain fundamentals, with an emphasis on transportation and distribution.

Date: Tues., Jan. 14, 2025

Time: Noon- 1:00 p.m. CST

Location: virtual event

Competency Benchmarking Tool

Dylan Bartlett, President and CEO, Supply Chain Canada

The quick and free competency benchmarking tool (CBT) can be used to identify your business strengths and analyze skill gaps related to supply chain management skills. This webinar will show how to use this innovative industry tool, explore knowledge gaps, create a custom training plan, set goals and establish KPIs and how measure results.

Date: Tues., Jan. 21, 2025

Time: Noon – 1:00 p.m. CST

Location: virtual event

Next in the Series – Supply Chain Focus Group – January 28 and 29, 2025

Manitoba Agriculture, along with Supply Chain Canada and Supply Chain Manitoba, invite you to share your thoughts with others along the agri-food supply chain to discuss challenges, trends, opportunities and innovative solutions in supply chain management. Click here to learn more.

RSVP Information:

To confirm your attendance at the lunch-and-learn webinars, please RSVP by Jan. 13, 2025, by registering here.